

CONTACT: Resource Center for Accessible Living, Inc.
Janae Myers, Office Manager
845-331-0541 ext. 20

“Opening the doors of opportunity”

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
May 22, 2014

RCAL PARTICIPATES IN OMEGA INSTITUTE’S SERVICE WEEK FOR NONPROFITS

Staff will gather at the Omega Institute for a two-day and two-night retreat

Resource Center for Accessible Living, Inc. (RCAL) will be closed on Monday, May 26 through Wednesday, May 28 while the staff members are on a retreat at Omega Institute in Rhinebeck, NY.

For the first time, RCAL staff will participate in the Omega Institute’s 10th annual Service Week. Omega Service Week brings nonprofit organizations together with their staff, and provides a New York Council of Nonprofits (NYCON) consultant, to allow focus on organizational opportunities and goals, as well as strategic planning and networking.

RCAL has chosen to focus their time at Omega Institute on managing change.

“Change is not only something that happens within our organization,” said Sue Hoger, chief executive officer of RCAL. “Change occurs within the networks and systems we work in; it happens within the lives of our consumers. Our staff needs to know the best ways to utilize change and how make the best of these inevitable changes. That is what we intend to take from this retreat.”

Back in January, RCAL was invited to apply to Omega Institute’s Service Week; altogether 33 nonprofit organizations were accepted and will arrive at Omega during the week of May 26 through May 30.

The Dyson Foundation provided in-part funding for RCAL to attend this three-day educational retreat and covered all cost for a NYCON consultant.

About RCAL

Our Mission is to assist people with disabilities to open the doors of opportunity and independence in the Ulster County region through self-determination by creating disability understanding and awareness, and access community-wide.

###